

TEACHERS Day Out!

The Teachers' Day Out is a fully funded professional development day for career advisors and teachers of technology, commerce, and the sciences. The day involves visiting working farms/orchards and agribusinesses in your region.

It is a fantastic opportunity for you to take a closer look at your local food & fibre sectors, integrate sector knowledge into your classroom practice, and have a better understanding of career opportunities for ākonga.

Why come along?

See the use of innovative science and technology.

Hear from passionate graduates about why we need more skilled young people in the industry.

Enjoy a delicious lunch on us.

Learn about our resources.

Leave with industry knowledge that will help you bring food stories to life in the classroom.
